

Lasallian Respect

At the heart of working and studying at De La Salle is our commitment to our mission and vision. As part of this, we recognise the importance of acknowledging the presence and work of those around us. At De La Salle we agree to:

- Acknowledge students and staff when we pass them on the corridor.
- Greet people when we walk into a classroom or an office.
- Thank people for their efforts (publically and privately as applicable).
- Speak to every member of our community respectfully at all times.
- Recognise that there are rules to be followed and sometimes the person telling you what you don't want to hear hasn't made the rules – be nice to him/her!
- Hold professional conversations in private (unless others are required as witnesses).
- Challenge staff in a way which upholds their dignity and respect and never in public.
