Dear Parent / Carer

Parental Update 1

A warm, welcome back to school in this very hot and humid start to the autumn term. Its very kind of summer to show up as we return to school! The start of term has been an extremely positive one with the students settling back in very well – it makes such a difference not having any building work or COVID disruptions as in previous years.

To our new Year 7 parents, a special welcome, and I hope that your child is enjoying their first week here at De La Salle. The Year 7s have really impressed with their maturity and positivity so far. For information, I will try to write out with a short update at the end of every week and produce a more colourful and detailed newsletter at the end of each term.

Today's update provides a lot of key information about contacts and the year ahead, they aren't normally this full! Along with today's update there is:

- Careers newsletter: we share these weekly and encourage you to discuss with the students
- List of key information including names and contacts along with this year's term dates.
- Our Lasallian Ways (in-school guides) for dealing with Uniform issues and Late to Class

Whole School Focus – School Organisation and Structures

Often the school will receive calls from parents wanting to speak to me directly about an issue, as this is what often happens in a primary school. As I am sure you can imagine, in a school of 1200 students and 150 staff, there are layers of management and leadership who will pick up and address issues and more importantly will know more about them and be better able to help you.

To help you identify who you should contact the key people are highlighted below and attached a list of key contacts:

1. For subject issues, the class teacher will support students helped by their Head of Department (HOD).
2. For pastoral issues, we have a tiered structure of staff to support students. This structure is different to those in most primary schools as we have far more students. The structure is:
 - Form tutor: this is your child's daily contact for most low-level things in school.
 - Pastoral Support Manager (PSM): the PSMs deal with the mid-level issues that a student might face and support their Head of Year with the Year Group.
 - Head of Year (HOY): the HOYs oversee the whole year group, pick up the more serious issues and direct the work of the PSMs and Form Tutors.
 - Senior Leader (SLT): each Year group is also overseen by a member of the Senior Leadership Team. They deal with the serious issues that arise and oversee the work of the HOY.
 - Deputy Headteacher (DHT): Years 7 and 8 are overseen by one of the Deputy Headteachers (Mr Ross) and Years 9-11 are overseen by another Deputy Headteacher (Ms Flaherty).
 - Headteacher: this is me. I oversee standards across the whole school and all aspects of school life. I generally deal with the high level, whole-school strategic issues rather than individual issues, or at least try to!

You can perform miracles by touching the hearts of those entrusted to your care.

- Designated Safeguarding Lead (DSL): this is Mrs De'Ath and her deputy DSL, Mr Ross, and they have ultimate responsibility for the safeguarding of staff and students across the school.
1. For SEND Issues, our SENDCo is Miss McCann for the main school, whilst Mrs Bullock has responsibility for the ASC Base. They are both overseen by a member of the SLT, Mrs Wellens.

GCSE Results

We are delighted that this year's GCSE are the best the school has had since the current GCSE system was introduced. This rise was fully expected and predicted but, with grade boundaries changing nationally, leading to a fall in grades, it was good to see our results go up with a healthy jump across the board. We wish all of last year's Year 11 students well as they begin their college courses and apprenticeships.

Information Evenings

We started these last year and have learnt from the way we ran them, so they will hopefully be even more useful to parents. These will take place as follows:

- Year 7: this took place in July and the materials covered can still be accessed in the link below. There will also be a parental meeting with your child's form tutor on Thursday 19th October: <http://www.delasalle.st-helens.sch.uk/admissions/primary-to-secondary-transition/>
- Years 8 and 9: Wednesday 20th September (details to follow)
- Years 10 and 11: Thursday 28th September (details to follow)

Uniform and Lateness to Lessons

I know some parents will think – why is he banging on about this again? The answer is simple – besides the financial/peer pressures and bullying that things like shoe brands can cause, they have a real impact upon attitude in lessons and around school, helping to create a sense of belonging and commitment to our Lasallian family. In other words, these are the basic foundations upon which we can then deliver a strong education. We are keen for young people to express their individuality, but through their writing, art, performance and sporting skills rather than expensive items of clothing.

To help you understand our expectations of staff and students, and how we manage both issues, I have attached our two Lasallian Ways (these are our in-school guides).

Welcome Mass 2023 (for Year 7 parents and students)

We would like to extend a warm welcome to each new member of our school community. To celebrate our newly formed family here at De La Salle, Fr Michael Harwood will celebrate a Welcome Mass for us on Wednesday 25th October 2023 in St Mary's, Lowe House (North Road, WA10 2TR).

Year 7 pupils will have opportunities during the upcoming weeks to prepare for this mass to showcase and embrace all that this new cohort of students has to offer. We would love to see as many students as possible there accompanied by their families. We also have a number of new staff who will be celebrated at the same time. Mass will begin at 6:30pm and usually lasts around an hour!

There will be a ParentMail shortly for you to RSVP, in the meantime if you have any questions, or comments, please do get in touch with Chaplaincy cantillons@delasalleschool.org.uk

And finally...The List

Hopefully, for most of you, the summer holiday was a time of relaxation and switching off. This was my intention until Mrs R thought there was scope for improving my productivity during the holidays, in the form of 'the list'. I am very familiar with Mrs R's lists of 4 or 5 jobs which she kindly produces to give me something to do, but this was the daddy of all lists – 70 jobs, events and activities.

Some were nice activities such as visiting the Victoria Gallery and Museum at the University of Liverpool or watching The Bear. Others were very small and fairly easy: Hoover Sam's room, tidy the loft and take gas and electric meter readings.

There were a few, however, of those niggly jobs that you know won't be quick and easy: changing my phone contract, renewing car insurance on a 4-car multicar deal, arranging the return of a damaged suitcase, liaising with the airline over compensation for our son's cancelled flight etc.

For transparency, these were a shared set of tasks, and it would also be fair to point out that Mrs R tackled them with significantly more vigour than me. So, by the end of the holidays, 69 of the 70 items on the list had been completed, the one remaining one was to tidy my bedside cabinet drawer. This one, I thought, was an unnecessary task as the drawer is always closed and the untidiness of my collection of random objects in there is only noticeable when you open it. So, after all those phone calls, jobs, emails, online chatting with AI Bots, I was making a stand!

Anyway, that went well and, needless to say, I underestimated Mrs R's determination to clear the jobs list. So, we have now ticked off the 70 jobs and I am looking for a home for an old set of rosary beads, a Beamish museum bookmark, a cable for an unknown electrical appliance, a damaged USB pen drive, a box of plasters and a Blockbuster video membership card.

Have a good weekend.

LASALLIAN WAY PUNCTUALITY TO LESSONS

1. High Expectations

Staff and students aware of expectations. Parents regularly updated on their child's punctuality to lessons.

2. Key Triggers

Students identified if they hit the trigger of 2 or more lates to class in a week.

3. Detentions

Students complete the appropriate detention when they hit a trigger.

4. Punctuality Report

Students who show no improvement are placed on punctuality report and parents contacted.

5. Continued Lateness

This is now picked up as part of the graduated approach to behaviour.

The Lasallian Way

Lasallian Way - Punctuality to lessons

1. High Expectations	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> All staff and students are aware of expectations for being in class on time. These are: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> After break and lunch, students should be on time. Between lessons, students have up to 3 minutes to get to their next lesson. Those arriving 3 or more minutes after the change should be recorded on SIMS along with the number of minutes late.
2. Key Triggers	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> HOYs monitor 'lates to lessons' data daily. Those arriving late on 2 or more occasions should be placed on 30 minute 'Late to Lesson' detentions. These detentions are after school (Wednesday and Friday).
3. Detentions	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Students should attend the appropriate detention. Those failing to attend the detention will be placed on a 1 hour detention on a Friday.
4. Punctuality Report	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Students who have had 2 detentions should be placed on a punctuality report by their form teacher (HOY should alert FT) for one week. If no improvement then this should progress to a HOY punctuality report.
5. Continued Lateness	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Continued lateness will be viewed as non-compliance and will be addressed through the school's graduated behaviour approach.

LASALLIAN WAY - MANAGING UNIFORM

1. Worn Properly

All students should be compliant with our uniform policy at all times. Staff will check uniform regularly.

2. Correction

If challenged about incorrect uniform, students should remedy the issue immediately and without fuss.

3. Refer On

Students who do not remedy the uniform issue when asked to, should be referred to their HOY or a member of SLT

4. Compliance

Students who refuse to comply with the school uniform will be placed in Compliance by HOY or SLT and parents informed.

5. Suspension

Students who persist in non-compliance for 3 days or more will face suspension.
